

Next Generation Cockpit Model Produced by Yazaki

Cockpit integrated control unit systems that can be customized to meet a wide range of customer needs.

Various customer needs are increasing according to spreading smart devices, such as smartphones. Similar needs are growing in automotive cockpits.

Feature

1

Features and graphics can be customized via Cloud according to user's preferences and vehicle images.

2

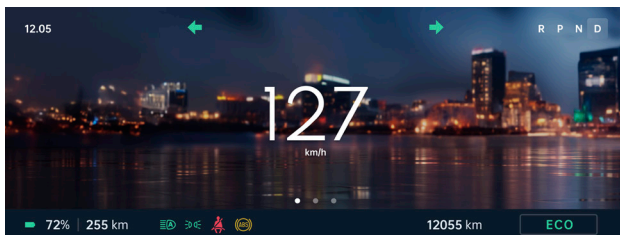

Display autonomous driving functions and navigation screen with high grade 3D graphics, and provide advanced interior spaces.

3

Produce the cockpit environment with high additional values by integrated controls of interior and exterior features.

Performance/Specification

High grade 3D graphic display

Customization features according to user's preferences

